

It doesn't matter what we own, or what we look like, or who our friends are. Jesus tells us that we must treat everyone with friendliness and fairness because God made us all.

We all need our families, friends and neighbours. They can help us, and Jesus tells us that we must help them too. By doing this, we will help create a loving community.

All of God's people should have food, work, clothes, a home, a school and medical care. But many people do not have them.

The earth and all life on it is God's creation. It is the only place we can live. If people or governments make bad choices about how to treat nature, many others can suffer.

Making wise choices about the care of God's creation is called 'good stewardship'.

It is not enough to feel sad about others; everybody needs to help those who have less than they do.

Who is your hero or heroine?

What (or who) makes you really irritated?

Who do you know who needs your help?

When did you last help someone?

Who do you look up to in your neighbourhood, or at your school?

If you could have anything (but just one thing) for a present, what would it be?

Do you like animals?
Have you got a pet?

Why is taking drugs bad for you?

Have you heard of global warming?

Have you ever been hungry?

We are the world's people
and we need each other.
We are one family - the family of God.

Created by Catholic Commission
for Justice and Peace
Archdiocese of Cape Town
12 Bouquet St Cape Town 8000
Tel 021 462 2417
info@justiceandpeace.org.za
Illustrations by Sandy Mitchell
www.sandymitchell.co.za
MGC logo by Tania Bester
Interior text based on definitions from Anne E. Neuberger
www.anneneuberger.com

What can I do to make the world a better place?